Karnataka Congress Chief Arrested In Palace Satyagraha

RLY. BRIDGE DYNAMITED BY DEMONSTRATORS

BANGALORE, September 14. (A.P.I.): Mr. Nijalingappa, President of the Karnataka Provincial Congress Committee, and third "Dictator" of the Mysore Congress Satyagraha was arrested today in Mysore.

He had arrived in Mysore for Palace Satyagraha.

Firing On Tumkur Crowd

BANGALORE, Sept. 14 (API).—Two persons were killed and ten injured when the police opened fire this afternoon at Tumkur, about 40 miles from Bangalore.

A large crowd, it is stated, attacked the Taluk Office pelting stones at the police, which resulted in the police opening fire.

One person was killed when the police opened fire on Saturday evening on a crowd which, it is reported, attacked the Taluk Office at French Rocks near Seringapatam on the way from Bangalore to Mysore.

LATHI CHARGE & FIRING

The report stated that the crowd pelted stones and later rushed into the building armed with clubs. The police resorted to a lathi charge and later opened fire, as a result of which one was killed.

In Chintamani Taluk, beyond Kolar, a road bridge at Kalhalli was damaged and the railway bridge at Colvade was dynamited by demonstrators.

In Bangalore city, the house of a teacher in the National School was raided by the police last night and a cyclostyle machine and unauthorised leaflets were recovered. The teacher was arrested.

Today being the day fixed fixed by the Congress for demonstrations in front of the Maharaja's Palace in Mysore, extensive arrangements were made in Mysore city by the police to prevent satyagraha jathas from coming in and staging the demonstrations. So well was the police and military deployed round the palace and the city that it was impossible for anybody to pierce the cordon. A strict curfew was also in force.

In Bangalore city, which was under curfew, there was no Satyagraha activity, but in the Cantonment area four "Mysore Chalo" jathas were arrested. The Jathas included four women of whom one had a child in arms.

Mr. T. T. Sharma, editor of the "Visva Karnataka" weekly, who had notified the police of his intention to lead a Jatha today, was also arrested.

B.I.S.N. CO.'S OFFER TO EVACUEES FROM KARACHI

KARACHI, Sept. 14 (UPI).—The management of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company has decided to give free passages to deserving evacuees freom Karachi, it is learnt.

This Company transported approximately 13,000 evacuees from Karachi this week.

Lord Ismay

KARACHI, Sept. 14 (API).—Lord Ismay left for Delhi by air this afternoon.

GANDHIJI MEETS MOUNTBATTEN

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14. (A.P.I.): Mahatma Gandhi called on Lord Mountbatten this afternoon at Government House. He was there for about an hour.

In the evening, the Congress President Acharya Kripalani and Mr. Shankarrao Dev called on Mahatma Gandhi. Earlier in the day the Deputy Prime Minister Sardar Patel came to see Mahatma Gandhi.

MAHATMA REBUKES BOTH GOVT.S

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14. (A.P.I.): Addressing the prayer gathering this evening, Mahatma Gandhi stressed that he was in Delhi to "do or die" and said he had no desire to witness the mad fratricide, this national suicide, their betrayal of the Government.

He first mentioned about his visit in the day to two Muslim refugee camps in Idgah and on the Ridge nearby. He stated that no Muslim there bore an angry look. They seem to be poor. There was a very old man who was mere skin and bone. Every rib was to be seen. He was stabbed in several places. By his side was a woman equally injured. Though not so old, she was in a dilapidated condition. Mahatma Gandhi said, he hung his head in shame when he saw them. For him all men and women were the same, no matter what religion they professed. Then he spoke of the insanitation of the camps. They were filthy beyond description. In the Idgah the tank was dry. He did not enquire when the refugees could get their water from.

Mahatma Gandhi said, if he was a camp commandant and the military and the police were under him, he would take up the hovel and pickaxe himself and ask the help of the military and the police to do likewise and then ask the refugees to follow suit so that the camp would be in perfectly sanitary condition. The Hindu camps were no better on this score.

Mahatma Gandhi wondered why so many Hindus and Sikhs were coming away from Western Pakistan provinces. He asked, was it a crime to be a Hindu or a Sikh, or were they coming away out of sheer cussedness or was it a punishment for what their conferers had done in the East?

Mahatma Gandhi then thought of the Indian Union. He asked why were the Muslims of Delhi frightened into leaving their homes? Had both the governments broken down? why did the populace ignore its governments?

Mahatma Gandhi then referred to the Muslims who possessed unlicensed arms. He said there was the Government to see to it that those arms were taken away from the unlawful possessors. If they were incompetent, they were to give place to better men. The Government was what they, the people, made it. It was wholly wrong and undemocratic for individuals to take the law into their own hands. This lawlessness boded no good for India, whether it was rampant in Pakistan or the Indian Union.

PERSIA WANTS NO INTERFERENCE

Premier Explains Govt. Policy In International Affairs

TEHERAN, Sept. 14. (Reuter): Presenting his new Cabinet to the Persian Parliament to-day, Gavan-es-Sultaneh, the Premier, declared that while the Government wanted mutual friendly relations with all powers, it would permit no interference in the country's internal affairs.

Deputies were expected to discuss the Premier's seven-year programme and pass a vote of confidence in the new Government at the next meeting of Parliament on Tuesday.

If the vote were favourable, the Premier would be in a position to submit the draft proposal for a joint Soviet-Persian Oil Company in Northern Persia, for which the Russians are pressing.

CAIRO, Sept. 14, (Reuter): About 3,000 Government pringting workers here staged a sit-down strike today to "mark the anniversary of the British occupation of Cairo in 1882."

British troops evacuated Cairo last March.

Police Clash With Students In Alexandria

Demonstration Against Security Council's Decision And Its Sequel

CAIRO, Sept. 14. (Reuter): Clubs and stones were used in a clash in Alexandria to-day between police and students in a mass demonstration against the Security Council's failure to concede Egypt's case against Britain.

The Demonstrators shouted a new slogan—"Down with Nokrashy Pasha, tool of the British". Nokrashy Pasha, the Egyptian Premier, presented Egypt's case to the Security Council in New York.

Alexandria police dispersed the crowds, but the town was still in a state of tension and Egyptian steel helmeted troops were standing by to-night.

The Moslem Brotherhood called a mass meeting in Alexandria for to-night, to be followed by a demonstration to mark the 65th anniversary of the British Occupation of Cairo.

INDIA GOVT. SEEKS Modification Of Radcliffe Award

NEW DELHI, September 14. (A.P.I.):- The Government of India intend to seek to modify the terms of the Award of the Bengal and Punjab Boundary Commission by such methods as may be found suitable, says a Notification in the Gazette of India Extraordinary.

The Government state that though they consider the Award as unsatisfactory and unreasonable in certain parts, it is only because there was an agreement between the parties to the arbitration proceedings to abide by the decision of the Commission that they proposed for the present to accept the boundary determined by them.

PEACE TREATIES COME INTO FORCE TODAY

LONDON, Sept. 14 (Reuter).—A prolonged period of stagnation in Europe ends tomorrow (Monday) by the coming into force of the peace treaties with Italy, Rumania Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland, cables Reuter's diplomatic correspondent.

With the deposit of instruments of ratification tomorrow by the Great Powers concerned, in Paris for the Italian treaty and in Moscow for the other four countries, a number of time limits will be set in motion within which the fighting forces of ex-enemy countries must be scaled down, reparations must be paid, the future of the Italian Empire settled, Allied troops must be withdrawn and nationality in ceded territories must be decided.

Most important of all, the Italian peace treaty brings into birth the free zone of Trieste, between Italy and Yugoslavia, whose future stability may make the difference between peace and war.

MRS. NAIDU'S ADVICE TO JOURNALISTS

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 14. (U.P.I.): "Every journalist has a greater responsibility than a king has," observed Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, Governor of the United Provinces, in the course of an informal chat with local pressmen whom she invited to tea yesterday afternoon at the Government House.

Mrs. Naidu said that free India should expect her journalists to discharge their responsibilities in the right manner. They should create public opinion. Words published in the press created public opinion not only at home but abroad. Their responsibilities were, therefore, very great.

Continuing Mrs. Naidu said: "I do not want the press to suppress any news or views but I want the press to impartially approach all problems without bias."

She said that fear complex was responsible for panic prevailing in the country and it should be the duty of journalists to allay this panic and create a sense of security among the public. The language, she said used by the journalists should be simple so that every man in every corner of India must understand the language.

China's First Task

DESTRUCTION OF COMMUNISTS

SHANGHAI Sept. 14, (Reuter): The Chinese Government has decided that the crushing of the Chinese Communists as an armed political party is its first task in a struggle which "will not only decide its own fate but also the life or death of China as a Sovereign Power," it was disclosed today by publication here of a document handed to Lieutenant-General A. C. Wedemeyer, President Truman's fact-finding envoy to China, on August 15.

The document, whose contents were made known simultaneously here and in Nanking, was prepared in reply to a request from General Wedemeyer for a statement outlining constructive steps the Chinese Government had taken since "V-J-Day" in the political, economic, educational and social spheres.

It declared that armed opposition by the Communists had been the greatest single destructive force against the Government's programme of economic rehabilitation. "In fact, the outcome of the struggle against the communists is bound up with the peace and security of the whole of the Far East," the document said.

BRITAIN ACCUSES YUGOSLAV GOVT.

Maltreatment Of Allied Forces

LONDON, Sept. 14, (Reuter): Britain has accused the Yugoslav Government of countenancing maltreatment of Allied Officers and men in a note delivered last Friday by the British Ambassador in Belgrade and paralleling a similar United States note demanding the release of Anglo-Saxon personnel now under detention.

Britain could no longer hold her previous view that the maltreatment about which she had complained before was due to the action of "irresponsible subordinates", the note said.

This treatment could only contribute to a "marked deterioration of Anglo-Yugoslav relations."

India Govt. Won't Oblige

Junagadh's Collection Of "19th Century" Tribute

(From Our Correspondent)

RAJKOT, Sept. 14.

Junagadh State has been recovering political tribute styled "Jortalbi" from all Kathiawad States through British Government. Due to its joining Pakistan, the States Department Treasury has refused to receive its arrears and dues.

Some of the States have been contemplating of repudiating this nineteenth century political dues and the so-called suzerainty of Junagadh over Kathiawad States.

Pakistan has removed the political influence of Junagadh in Kathiawad. Even if Junagadh refers the matter to the Dominion of India now it is not likely that the States would pay this orthodox type of tribute now.

VAN MOOK TO MEET U.N.O. DELEGATES

THE HAGUE, Sept. 14 (Reuter): Dr. Hubertus Van Mook, Lieutenant-Governor-General of the Dutch East Indies, postponed his return to Holland from New York today—two days before the opening of the United Nations General Assembly at which the Indonesia situation will again be discussed—to have talks with representatives of other nations to the U.N.O.

He hoped to have a discussion with Dr. Hubert Evatt, Australian Minister for External Affairs, "and possibly othr United Nations personalities", Dr. J. Ozinga, Head of the Netherlands Indies Government Information Service, disclosed here today.

Australia is one of three countries on the committee set up by the Security Council to seek a settlement of the Indonesian Dispute.

Members of the other United Nations Commission—a consular group to investigate operation of the six-weeks old "cease-fire" order—were meanwhile still at work in Indonesia said reports from Batavia.

Two Australian officers, acting as experts for the Consular Commission, were flying to Jogjakarta, the Republican capital, today, while British, Australian and French consuls planned to leave Batavia on Tuesday for Sumatra to continue their investigations.

The Dutch army communique, quoted by the Netherlands news agency, reported today that snipers shot at Mr. J. Roberts, Acting British Vice-Consul at Medan, Sumatra, while he was travelling in a jeep convoy near Medan. He was unhurt.

GHAZNAFAR ALI ON CASUALTIES IN EAST AND WEST PUNJAB

KARACHI Sept. 14, (A. P. I.): Pakistan's Minister for Food, Health and Agriculture, Mr. Ghazanfar Ali Khan, who returned to Karachi last night after a twenty-one-day tour of the Riot-stricken areas of the Punjab, in an interview said that though it was not possible at the present to estimate correctly the number of casualties in East and West Punjab he would place the number of killed in East Punjab as well over 100,000 and those killed in the West Punjab at about 10,000.

The number of refugees who had crossed over from East Punjab to West Punjab was, according to him, more than one million, while those crossing over in the opposite direction were between 200,000 and 300,000.

Mr. Ghazanfar Ali Khan stated that West Punjab, the granery of Pakistan, was running a grave risk of losing its 'kharif' crop as millions of acres of land had been left unattended by the refugees crossing over to the East Punjab.

The Minister said that he was glad that the India Government had sent anti-cholera vaccine for 200,000 to Kasur. He added that it was not enough, for cholera had taken a large toll of life and vaccine should be available to innoculate at least two million five hundred thousand more.

W. PUNJAB CABINET TO BE EXPANDED

LAHORE, Sept. 14 (A. P. I.): The West Punjab Cabinet is likely to be expanded shortly and the portfolio of evacuation and rehabilitation of refugees will be allotted to one Minister exclusively, the Associated Press of India learned tonight.

The decision to expand the Cabinet is said to have been taken in response to the wishes of the Council of the Punjab Muslim League, embodied in a resolution passed by the Council today.

Lie's Warning To Great Powers

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14, (Reuter): A warning to the Great Powers of the dangers of delay in signing the Major Peace Treaties was given by M. Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations on the eve of the opening of the General Assembly's Session.

"It is not for me to quarrel with the position of any Power or Group of Powers", said Mr. Lie. "I can only point out that these treaties remain to be signed, that it is the duty of the Powers to conclude them and that the consequences are what they are.

"From the point of view of the United Nations and the ordinary people of the world, every day's delay is serious. I hope the next meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers will produce positive and satisfactory results. It would be treacherous to the whole idea of the United Nations to condone or be satisfied with a chronic state of disagreement between the Powers".

Jinnah Warns Afridis Against Retaliation

"Such Action Is Contrary To Islamic Teachings": Reply To Khyber Agency Telegram

KARACHI, Sept. 14 (API).—The following "communique" was issued from Government House this evening:

"'Many thanks for your telegram. My advice to Mussalmans in Pakistan especially and outside is that it will be most unwise on their part wherever they are in the majority to resort to retaliation or adopt any action in the spirit of revenge.

'Apart from such an action being contrary to our Islamic teachings, it is also not in our interest to do so, and such action or actions will serve no useful purpose as a relief to those Mussalmans who happen to be minorities in Hindustan, or elsewhere in this sub-continent."

ADVICE TO AFRIDIS

"This message has been sent by Quaid-i-Azam Mohammed Ali Jinnah in reply to a telegram received from Nawabzada Khalil Khan Malik on behalf of Afridis of the Khyber Agency.

"The Nawabzada telegraphed: 'We, Afridis of the Khyber Agency cannot tolerate the cruelty which is being done towards eastern Punjab Muslims. If this is not stopped, we shall take revenge everywhere. Wire advice.'

The "communique" continued: "The Quaid-i-Azam has supplemented his reply to the Afridis with the following statement:

"'I have received many other telegrams from the Frontier tribes and other parts of Hindustan and my advice to them is exactly the same as I have given in this telegram.

ASSURANCE TO MUSLIMS

"'I assure the Mussalmans that the Pakistan Government is fully alive to the grave situation and is doing its very best to protect the Mussalmans everywhere in every possible way. I, therefore, request the Mussalmans not to precipitate matters by hasty and premature action on the part of any individual Muslim or groups in any part of the sub-continent."

Two Ordinances To Be Issued

KARACHI, Sept. 14 (API).—It is understood that the Sind Government would shortly be issuing two Ordinances, one to prevent the dissemination of exaggerated account of incidents of communal disturbances and the other to deal with frequent complaints made in connection with eviction of lawful tenants from their residences by unauthorised persons.

TRAINING IN ATHLETICS TO MAKE INDIA FIT

Ullal Rao's Plea For Creation Of Congress Stadium In Azad Maidan

LONDON, Sept. 14. (Reuter): Travelling back to India this week-end in the liner "Franconia" is an Indian with a life-long ambition to make new India the force in the athletic world that she is in Hockey and, to a lesser degree, Cricket, writes Vernon Morgan, Reuter's Sports Editor. He is Ullal Rao, the lithe High jumper, who is returning home after six weeks in England mostly spent at the Loughborough Athletic College.

Rao is going back to India on a crusade, his self-appointed mission being to see that young India gets the chance of keeping fit and shining in sports in the same way as young Britain does.

PROMOTE ATHLETICS.

Athletics can rightly be termed a Cinderella sport in Britain and even the British Government would concede that amenities for promoting a fit youth are far from adequate but, according to Rao, India is in a very much worse position. Indeed, the High-Jumper was greatly impressed by what he saw at Loughborough and the training facilities supplied not only there but all over Britain made his heart yearn for similar amenities for the new Young India.

To all the great men in India, Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Nehru, the Aga Khan and other Rao has addressed himself pleading the cause of India's youth and praying that they may use their influence to give India chance to become a fit nation and a power in the world of athletics.

CONGRESS STADIUM IN AZAD MAIDAN.

What he wants as a start is a first-class Athletic Stadium and his ambition is to persuade the Government of India to provide the ground for such a Stadium. The money, he claims, is there—lakhs of rupees, but permission to erect an Arena is lacking. Rao feels that India could do no better to celebrate her independence than by putting up a Super Arena like the Brabourne Stadium in, say, the Azad Maidan as a memorial for all time.

Let me quote this enthusiastic High Jumper. "Bombay should build a Congress Stadium in memory of the Sarda, the lion, so that every sportsman as he takes the field will recall the stout-hearted strength and will of this giant in defying the mightiest Imperialism on earth and muster himself to build a giant strength to win International trophies, shatter world records and make new ones." Through sport and physical exercise we can build the manhood of India and tune it to International pitch.

BUILD FIT NATION

"Now is the time for us to prepare, to develop and to build. We have the energy, the power and the youth to do it. But we need a Stadium which we can call our own where we can practise—a Stadium for all sportsmen of all castes and creeds of all ages and both sexes so that Bombay may become a centre for developing Indians into five specimens of manhood and womanhood."

TRAINING IN ATHLETICS.

It is obvious that, as not only Germany but Soviet Russia and other countries have shown, a fit nation is a strong one and a fit nation is a successful one. Obviously the time must come, if India wishes to take her place in athletics as she has done in Hockey and is now doing in Cricket, Badminton and other sports with the best Nations in the world when she must have proper facilities for the young men and women to train.

WALDRE'S LUCK IN FR. ST. LEGER

Prince Ali Khan's "Imphal" Breaks Leg And Has To Be Destroyed

PARIS, Sept. 14. (Reuter): Baron de Waldner's "Tourment" won the Prix Royal Oak (French Saint Leger) run over one mile seven furlongs at Longchamps to-day. Starting a hot favourite, he beat Monsieur Le Masson's L'Imperial by five lengths with Monsieur Marcel Boussac's "cadir" a further four lengths away third of seven runners.

Prince Ali Khan's "Imphal" which had been sent over from England for the race broke a leg entering zthe straight and had to be destroyed. Charlie Smirke, his jockey, was unhurt when the horse fell. The going was very firm and this undoubtedly contributed to the accident.

The race was worth more than £3,000 to Barton de Waldner who is also owner of the Epson Derby Winner, "Pearl Diver.".

"Tourment" who is by "Tourbillon" out of Fragment covered the distance in 3 minutes 11.6 seconds. He paid 16 francs to 10 francs stake for win on "Parimutuel".

MARSHALL DEFINES TASKS FOR U. N. ASSEMBLY

American Delegation To Prick Greek Bubble

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (Reuter).—Mr. George Marshall, the United States Secretary of State, called for prompt action on serious matters in the political and security field" by the U.N. General Assembly—opening here on Tuesday—when he spoke at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel today to mark the opening of the United States "United Nations week."

Mr. Marshall, who will lead the United States Delegation to the Assembly, made it clear his Delegation would put all its strength behind efforts to break the Greek crisis dead-lock.

SOLUTION FOR GREEK CRISIS

He said: "We are particularly concerned with the aid and assistance which are being provided by Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania to the guerillas in Greece—a direct threat to the territorial integrity and political independence of that country.

"We seek nothing in that situation but the protection of the Greek people which is due under the charter," Mr. Marshall said.

"We have no interest beyond the pacification of the troubled area.

"The solution must be the cessation of the threat—and we earnestly hope that the Assembly will be able to devise means for accomplishing that end."

Other points from his speech were:

(1) PALESTINE: "We believed it is of the greatest importance that every effort be made to obtain maximum agreement in the Assembly on a solution for this problem and that the peoples directly concerned will accept the recommendations of the Assembly as a basis for a definite solution."

(2). THE VETO: "We are not unalterably opposed to every proposal for revision of the Charter, although we believe that there is at present no need for major revisions or for a change in the general character of the United Nations".

RUSSIAN TACTICS.

(3). In a reference to recent Russia's tactics in the Security Council Mr. Marshall said: "We find it difficult to believe that elders of the United Nations would deliberately seek to destroy its structure by persistence in acts of aggression or by obstruction of a nature to paralyse the principal organs of the Organisation".

Mr. Marshall gave an 8-point explanation of what United States support of the United Nations means:

(1). "We ourselves must faithfully live up to our obligations under the Charter.

(2). "Public acts must be consistent with the Charter whether they are carried out through the United Nations or through other means.

U.N.O.'S FUNCTIONS.

(3). "We must refer to the United Nations problems which have failed of solution by other peaceful means and which require solution under the Charter.

(4). "We must work persistently and loyally within the several organs and agencies within the United Nations towards successful accompalishment of their assigned tasks

(5). "We must seek to improve the procedures and machinery of the United Nations organisation itself and to join with others in providing resources which are necessary for its efficiency

(6). "We must join other members to make it unmistakably clear that aggression against the territorial integrity or political independence of others will be resisted by the combined efforts of members of the United Nations.

(7). "We must exert every possible effort to conclude the remaining Peace Treaties, thereby creating normal conditions under which the United Nations was designed to function. It is intended to maintain peace, not to make peace.

(8). "We join with others in seeking to improve the world's economic situation and to bring about economic conditions necessary to international stability"

The United States, Mr. Marshall added, looked forward to the early admission to the United Nations of the remaining nations who might now be qualified for membership.

Partners in Progress

Standing on the threshold of a new epoch, we face great changes in the India of today. The nation we envisage will be strong, united, better housed, better fed . . . and better clad. And the knowledge that tomorrow, as in the past, India will find ready use for the hard-wearing, attractive quality fabrics made by the Buckingham & Carnatic Mills, provides an incentive to our further progress.

Today, chemical and dyestuff scarcities continue to restrict our production to essential types of cloth, but the fabrics we manufacture at present lack nothing of that good finish, durability and over-all value which have distinguished our products for seventy years.

Now that you have to make the little cloth you do get go as far as possible, it is more than ever necessary that you buy DRILLS, TWILLS, LONGCLOTH, SHIRTINGS, SUITINGS and TUSSORES which carry these famous trade-marks:

Bombay Salutes Great Martyr: Birth Anniversary Of Champak R. Pillai

BOMBAY, Sunday.

The Bombay Keraleeya Samaj is celebrating the birthday of the late Dr. Champak Raman Pillai, on the 15th inst. the valiant fighter for India's freedom who died in exile abroad.

Dr. Pillai belonged to the line of Ettuvittil Pillais, in Travancore, who were the first to rebel against monarchy and autocracy in the State. The mantle of Velu Thampi, the lion of Travancore who challenged the British Imperialists was taken up by Dr. Pillai and he lived up to that tradition. Dr. Pillai lived, struggled and died for a United Independent India. "For me, there is only one India a United Greater India. To work for this India, and to belong to it and to serve it is my ambition in life."

Though this dream has not been fully realised today, we are free and it is up to us to pay our homage to the great Martyr. This would have been done long ago but it was the wish of Dr. Pillai that anything to honour him should be done only in Free India.

In many ways Dr. Pillai foreshalled Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and Netaji's way of fighting for India's freedom.

Even Hitler at the height of his glory could not coerce Dr. Pillai into his fold and Dr. Pillai had to pay the price for upholding his convictions with his life. It was Dr. Pillai who made Hitler apologise to the world for his tactical support to British mastery over India.

On his birthday, we salute the great Martyr and hope that the progressive patriots of India will not fail to commemorate his memory which will inspire the generations to come.

The function will take place at Sunderbai Hall Monday at 6-30 p.m. Mr. S. K. Patil, President of the B.P.C.C. will preside.

HIGHER EDUCATION

In discussing the various problems of educational reconstruction, there is a tendency in some quarters to pay inadequate attention to the claims of higher education. It is urged by some that higher education is a costlv affair and benefits comparatively a few and that therefore it should be left as far as possible to private enterprise. This is but partially true and no Government will be justified in neglecting or underestimating the claims of higher education. We are second to none in recognising the special importance of primary and secondary education and adult literacy as these benefit a vast majority of the citizens. But higher education is essential for the training of the army of teachers for secondary and upper primary schools, of the leaders of citizens and their lieutenants, of doctors, engineers, skilled technicians and agriculturists, higher grade officials and generally for the training of all those from whom more than routine work is expected. If that is true it behoves every Government to help higher education in a generous measure, financially and otherwise, directly or indirectly.

As regards the cost of higher education, it has doubtless been very high so far. But the cost can and should be reduced without prejudice to efficiency. Here we shall mention only a few ways of effecting economy. First, much of the work now done in the first year or two in the Arts Colleges can be quite efficiently done in many of the well-equipped high schools at an appreciably lower cost. The cost will be lower still when higher education comes to be imparted wholly or predominantly through the medium of the mother tongue. Secondly, if the standard of high school education is raised, as it is sure to be with the larger use of the vernacular medium and with the improvement of the curricula in general, the present four years' work can be done in three, at any rate in the Arts Colleges. Thirdly, there is no reason why good high school buildings should not be used for college classes in Arts and Commerce in the evening either by the authorities of these schools or by other institutions. This will mean a considerable saving to those who wish to start evening classes and will also be a boon to the hundreds and thousands of poor but talented young men who need to do some work during the day but are anxious to obtain higher education in evening colleges. It is sheer snobbery to object that evening college classes in high school buildings necessarily lack in the dignity and cultural atmosphere that are needed for colleges. Indeed, for those who have a more correct sense of values, there is special dignity and cultural atmosphere in institutions attended by devoted students who pursue knowledge under difficulties even after a good day's work. Evening college classes are common even in a rich country like England for the benefit of ambitious worker students. They are far more necessary in a poor country like India. If University regulations prevent the use of school premises for college classes in the evening, those regulations must be altered, and that speedily. Congress and Labour leaders may well make organised efforts for the concessions that we have suggested.

An Enormous Problem

Reviewing the recent disturbances in various parts of the country, Pandit Nehru stated at a press conference that the official verified figures of casualties in the disturbances in West and East Punjab were 15,000 killed but he felt that these figures were very low and might easily be doubled or trebled. Judging from the reports we have received, we fear that the latter part of the statement is not at all exaggerated. The enormity of the slaughter may be fairly gauged from the sequel that, according to Pandit Nehru's own estimate, at least two millions have been moved or are about to be moved on each side. Considering that the thing does not stop there but that vexing questions like settling the people on the move and preventing famine and pestilence have got to be faced, it is clear that it is all a terrific problem. This is particularly distressing because just at present India is facing a severe food crisis. Mahatma Gandhi has certainly reason to fear that wholesale transfer of population "would be a fatal snare and would mean nothing but greater misery" but the mass movements that have already begun are forced on the Governments and the public and have got to be tackled as humanely as possible.

Enormous as is the problem of attending to the refugees and evacuating people from disturbed areas, it is made more overwhelming by fresh disturbances created in a spirit of retaliation. Grim experience must teach everyone that retaliation in every way recoils on the very interests that encourage it. On the other hand those who maintain peace in their neighbourhood help the restoration of peace in other places too by helping the authorities concerned to do their jobs efficiently. This is particularly true of Delhi, which as Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel points out, is not only the nerve centre of the administration but has also become the focus of various non-official relief organisations. It is certainly a crime to cut the lifeline through which alone can the free flow of refugees be sustained. The restoration of peace will also be helped, as suggested by Gandhiji, by "a frank and bold acknowledgement by the respective Governments of the misdeeds of their majorities. Finally, majorities can help themselves far more easily than minorities can. For that very reason the minorities need special protection from the Government. Every right-minded and patriotic Indian will endorse Mahatma Gandhi's view that the transfer of population is a shame for both Hindus and Muslims. It is the duty of both the Indian and Pakistan Governments not only to do all in their power to restore peace and protect the minorities, but also to persuade them not to leave their hearths and homes. The true solution of the terrific problem to which Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru referred lies not in the two communities giving way to panic but, as Gandhiji says, in both of them living in peace and friendship in their own original homes and, certainly, "it would be madness to make the present estrangement a permanent enmity."

Frankly Speaking

Viet Nam's Decision

As was expected, M. Bollaert's bubble has burst. The so-called freedom which France offered to Indo-China has impressed no one. The Viet Namese have promptly spurned it. Even the spokesmen of the ex-Emperor, Bao Dai, who was to be used as the instrument for implementing the French offer have criticised its conditions and reservations. The fact is that the "freedom" is so obviously a fake that no one will venture to advocate its acceptance. The French would do well to realise the realities and give up all attempts in the direction of maintaining Imperialistic sovereignty over Indo-China. M. Bollaert says: "We are ready to accept the decision which pleases the Viet Namese people. France will only protect these people against any possible form of dictatorship." The Viet Namese people have already given their decision, which is, that first of all they want freedom from any form of dictatorship or domination by French Imperialism.

Wanted Team Work

We earnestly hope the domestic quarrels, however grave, between India and Pakistan are not allowed to be exhibited in America on the eve of the U. N. Assembly Sessions and that the responsible representatives of both will see to it that nothing is said or done to give aid and comfort to the enemies of both. There are serious issues before the forthcoming session; for instance, those relating to Palestine and Indonesia, which are of common concern to both. We are glad to learn that India and Pakistan have practically agreed to work in concert in connection with these matters. Public quarrels over domestic questions will weaken the team work and harm the interests of Palestine and Indonesia. Above all, there is the dispute between India and the Union of South Africa, which involves literally the honour and national self-respect of the Indian Union and Pakistan alike. Neither can afford to give any opportunity to the spokesmen of South African Whites to subject the Indian case to impressive ridicule. We hope the representatives of India and Pakistan will fight for justice and democracy as a solidly united and friendly team.

The Iranian Crisis

The crisis which has lately been potentially threatening Iran is, it appears, now coming to a head. Events, following the end of the war, in Iranian Azerbaijan and the trouble over the extension of the stay of Soviet troops beyond the period agreed upon between the Powers and Iran, served to create feelings of animosity and suspicion against Russia among the people of Iran. This was expressed in the elections to the Majlis, which have returned a majority of deputies not quite friendly to Russia. That naturally affected the prospects of the draft oil agreement between Iran and the U.S.S.R. which was, and is, subject to ratification by the Majlis. There have been reports of demands for ratification by the Soviet Union supported by warnings from the Moscow press and radio. There are also reports that these warnings are accompanied by "intense military activity on the Soviet side of the frontier, with the roar of moving tanks, the rattle of machinegun fire and searchlight exercises."

The Democratic Solution

On the other hand, it is reported from Teheran that "three battalions of mechanised troops have been sent to Persia's northern frontier with the Soviet Union, following a declaration of United States' support for Persia in defending her own resources made by Mr. George Allen U. S. Ambassador in Teheran." The whole thing is fast becoming a power-politics issue between the two rival world powers with poor Iran as another prospective field for its disastrous play. Can the original question not be settled peacefully and amicably? It is true that the Majlis is in no mood to accept the present draft of the Soviet-Iranian oil agreement. But it is also true that the draft framed under the pressure of unfavourable circumstances needs improvement in favour of Iran's economic, territorial and sovereign rights. If the Soviet Union is concerned only to work the oil fields and nothing more, a compromise revision is possible. Such a revision will also serve as an example and a precedent to enable Iran to secure a revision of agreements relating to the Southern Iranian fields. Thereby the Soviet Union will be assisting Iran in extending the latter's economic and national freedom instead of further restricting it.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

Appointment Of High Court Judges

Sir,—The recently announced appointed of two 58 years old practitioners Mr. M. Desai and Mr. Jagirdar, as judges of the Bombay High Court however correct from the pont of ther personal qualfcatons, has restarted an old controvesial problem which seemed to have been finally settled some years ago by the Government acting in conjuction with the High Court.

Between 1920 and 1930 there was quite a spate of successve appontments of senior practitioners from the Bar to Bench, andit was found that after a short spell of Judgeships in ninety per cent of cases these appointees resigned in 2 or 3 years and reverted to their practise with the result that, apart from other remifications, the work of the court was dislocated and fresh appointments had to be made.

To avoid this situation, a very saluatary convention was started by Government therefore at the instan-Government therefore at the instance of the High Court, tha nobody should be apponted a judge, unless he undertook not to revert to private practice upon his reirement or earlier resignation. A retirement judge on he ground of age limit does not earn his full pension unless he has put in about 10 years of service and i?n consequence, only those in whose case there was the possibility of earning this pension came up for selection as judges. Younger men under 50 thus came to be appointed as judges, and they are happily still with us acting as such. This ensured continuity of service and provided a permanent judicial bench rich with pudicial experience thereby helping the administration of justice more effectively.

For some reasons which are not known, the authorities have now reverted to the old practice by appointment of two 58 years old practitioners as judges. This appointment can only be for two years, because they will have then attained the age limit of 60 years, and it is not likely that without the provision of a pension, they can be expected to refrain from private practice on retirement.

A spell of temporary judgeship, is always an attraction because of the glamour it attaches to subsequent privte practice, which for that very reason, is not desirable. During the decade after 1920 when this practice was in force instances were not wanting to show that the practise of such temporary incumbents invariably rose to great heights after a spell of judgeship, and it would not be unreasonable to suppose that this was the main consideration why such temporary incumbents reverted to private practice, there was a rush among the litigants to shower upon these incumbents their retainers, and in the case of Sir Jamshed Kanga it is reported that the value of such retainers on the very first day within an onterval of only couple of hours between the relinquishment of the office of judge and the assumption of the office of Advocate General amounted to 75,000/- rupees. Similarly, instances of such fabulous earnings after reversion to practice from the bench, in the cases of Sir Chimanlal Setelvad, Sir M. P. Engineer Mr. J. D. Davar and others are too well known to the legal profession and to the litigants.

There can be no question that the present appointment is made of two able practitioners, but the question still remains whether the principle brought into operation after the experience of 1920-1930 is now to be scrapped and whether we are to revert again to the old practice with its accompanying disadvantages.

The Bombay Bar has always been reputed to be fairly efficient and is one of the strongest in the whole country. There should have been no difficulty in selecting two capable men therefrom who are under 50 and who could, therefore, be safely expected to give the undertaking not to revert to private practice on retirement. Will the authorities concerned lay down some salutury principle and follow the same strictly in a matter of vital importance such as the Administration of Justice in a Free india?

Yours etc.

INDIAN DEPUTY HIGH COMMISSIONER IN PAKISTAN

KARACHI, Sept. 14 (API).—The Indian Deputy High Commissioner in Pakistan Mr. Vishvanathn, I.C.S., arrived in Karachi yesterday.

Dr. Choitram Gidwani, President of the Sind Provincial Congress Committee met him this morning and discussed the situation with him. Dr. Choithram is said to have pointed out to Mr. Vishvanathan the difficulties of evacuees from Sind and suggested to him to arrange that people leaving Sind should be allowed to carry their belongings with them.

Housing Problem In Bombay: And The Pugree Evil

By S. P. T.

It is now nearing a year since the Bombay Government created a Housing Department. The Minister concerned waxed enthusiastic about housing schemes; and sub-committees were formed; and then he went abroad. Another Minister tried to potter wit the Rent Act: but the tremendous volume of opposition he met from the landlords' victims suggested the prudent course of dropping his suggested amending bill. The problem, however, is where it is. In truth it has grown worse. The population of Bombay has now run into more than 30,00,000; of whom about a twentieth only could boast of accommodation, let alone houses of their own. This will give the reader an idea of the appalling conditions under which the city's population make pretence of living. Plans we have had a plenty, thirteen to the dozen in fact: but the immensity of the problem seems only to induce Ministers to mingle their tears with ours and bewail the scarcity of materials and the cost of labour and expatiate on any one or other of the ingenious reasons that explain inability to face up to things squarely and boldly. Meanwhile new cinemas somehow sprout like mushrooms: obviously shortage of materials is no impediment in their way.

SOCIAL VALUE.

The profound importance of the housing problem seems to be slurred over except in gushing emotional sobstuff at public meetings. Next to food it demands top priority. And housing is one of the means of bringing down the price structure. which must be the first object of any economic planning. From a more important point of view houses for the common man mean not only decent comfort for his family, but also mean, in the language of Sir William Harcourt, the famous Chancellor of the Exchequer, "the health of his sons and thev irtue of his daughters." Social welfare workers will bear witness to the truth of this dictum. The responsibility of the Government in this matter, therefore, is undeniable; and the subjecyt must receive immediate urgent attention.

WHAT ENGLAND IS DOING

The housing crisis in England had led to many ministerial resignations in succession. There has, however, been for near fifty years a municipal housing loan scheme in operation. The Small Dwellings Acquisition Act, first enacted in 1899, had been subsequently amended in various direc tions up to the year 1922. From the first right to grant loans for buying houses of value up to £ 400, the limit was later raised to £800 before the War and nois stands at £1,500. The loan is repayable at 2-3/4 per cent over a period of 20 to 30 years. Almost a dead letter and smothered under by the Building Societies, the emergence of Labour as Government has given a fillip to the scheme. Since the beginning of the year 1946 loans to municipal bodies have been made at reduced rates. This in addition to the Ministry's own housing scheme schemes. And of course, hefe also the universal shortage of dilding materials slows down progress.

In this country we have had the report of the Housing sub-committee of the National Planning Committee. That report seems to have been based on the wholly untenable conclusion that pucca housing is not wanting outside urban areas. The Bombay Planners had a clearer view of the needs of the common man, when they said that every individual should have 3,000 feet of fresh air and 100 square feet of living room. The Government of India announced a subsidy of 12-1/2 per cent with a maximum of Rs. 200 per house to Provincial Governments and local authorities who undertake building schemes. The National Planning Committee suggested a ten-year scheme and smiled benediction on the Central Government's subsidy proposals. But on what basis the maximum of Rs. 200 per house was arrived at is not known. Secondly, when Governments talk of housing they far too often think either of industrial labour or their own servants. Thirdly, there are the heart-breaking difficulties of procuring the building materials. Bricks, cement, timber and iron, and most important of all labour: here is a whole cat's cradle of obstacles to be surmounted. And through it all there is the overhanging menace of the black marketeer.

WANTED CONCRETE STEPS.

Instead of ladling out soothing syrup and insulting the public by joining in chorus in lamentations over the "pugaree" evil and the paucity of materials, the Government might well begin some concrete steps as parts of an immediate and long-term plan. Bricks, perhaps, it might be possible for Governments to manufacture by starting their own brick-kilns. A more rigorous control over cement and structural steel and their fairer and more equitable distribution might be the next step. This should include the discouragement of the erection of new cinema houses. Further, priority might be given to such additions to existing houses as will easily help in the accommodation of more families. Again, more vigorous negotiations should be undertaken to take over the military huts-ments and other structures. With slight modifications, or even as they are, they might help in the relieving of congestion and the housing shortage.

AMEND RENT ACT

While it is readily granted that houses do not rise from the ground overnight, the Government might suitably amend the Rent Act so as to give immediate relief from the shame lessly extant evil of pugaree. In the United Provinces and in Madras, the Rent Control Officer is also the accomodation officer. Landlords are obligated to intimate vacancies in accommodation to the Rent Controller. And if within a stated period the Rent Controller does not assign the house to any one, the landlord recovers his right to let it out himself. Infractions of this salutary provision have been often visited with condign punishment, as can be seen from the press of both the provinces. At one stage in 1945, the U. P. Government even thought of rationing housing space, with all its attendant difficulties in a country and a people with whom, as Pandit Nehru once bold a Bombay audience, religion is a thing of the kitchen. When this writer pointed out this aspect of the matter to the Minister for Civil Supplies at a press conference, he was astounded to hear the Minister's reply that such an amendment of the Rent Act was ultra vires. Apparently it did not strike the Minister that a thing cannot be ultra vires in Bombay and intravires in the U.P. and Madras. The suggested amendment will not solve our housing difficulties. But it will certainly meet the "pugaree" evil. Men glory in acknowledging the widespread existence of this evil; and think that absolves them and the Government from the necessity of supressing this menace. Once the Rent Controller is made also the accomodation controller, the landlords will find it difficult, if not impossible, to charge "pugaree," or to keep houses locked and untenanted at their sweet will and pleasure. The homeless citizen will know he has to deal with a public servant, whose tendency to graft and corruption could be easily checked or will be kept in check by the salutary provisions of the law.

And then it must be up to the Government to deal resolutely with those who have more accommodation than is required. A Government that is committed to planning, with all that it involves by way of interference with individual liberty, should make no grimaces at this, Jam yesterday and jam tomorrow but never jam today: seems to be the slogan with the Government departments concerned with this vital matter for the houseless population of the city.

DADABHAI MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

Elocution Competition For High School Students

The Elocution Competition organised by the Dadabhai Naoroji Memorial Association for the benefit of the High School students of the city and suburbs took place at the Bharatsay Lodge on Saturday evening. Forty-five students of the city and suburban schools took part. A notable feature was the presence of a large number of girl students who participated in the competition. The subjects selected were (1) Dadabhai Naoroji—His Life and Work, (2) My Choice of a Career, (3) My favourite character in present-day India and (4) Woman's place in Modern India and the students were to speak on any one of the subjects either in English or Hindustani. The speeches made by these youngsters were of a high level and were greatly appreciated by the large audience. After five hours of continuous sitting the three Judges awarded the five cash and book prizes to (1) Master Arun Desai, (2) Miss Goola Bharucha, (3) Miss Subhagini Rane, (4) Master Anthony Vaz and (5) Miss Zarina Bivaji. Two consolation prizes in the shape of books were awarded to R. K. Amarnath and Mustaq Ahmed.

Earlier Sir Jehangir Boman-Behram, the Chairman of the Association in welcoming the students and the large gathering assembled, spoke on the life and work of Dadabhai Naoroji who laid the foundations of Swaraj in this country.

The Chairman awarded the cash and book prizes to the successful students amidst scenes of great enthusiasm.

BATTLE OVER AUSTRIAN ASSETS

Soviet Interpretation Of Potsdam Pact Baffles Solution

VIENNA, Sept. 14 (Reuter).—The Austrian Treaty Commission is ending its term with its task far from completed. Its positive results have been so slight that any attempt to draw up a balance sheet of its gains and losses would be absurd, cables Robert Harrison, Reuter's special correspondent.

When the Potsdam Agreement laid it down that all assets of Germany in Austria should be available for the payment of reparations, it seemed that the question had been settled. But once an attempt was made to work out what a "German asset", was, the question was found to defeat solution.

It has proved easy to agree on the question of property in Austria which belonged to German nationals before March 13, 1938—when the Nazis marched in and took over Austria. But no agreement has been possible about property which was taken over by various forcible means between the time of Anschluss and the end of the war.

The Russians claim that all properties which became German during this interval and for which any compensation, however inadequate, was given, must be regarded as coming under the definition of the "German assets" referred to in the Potsdam Agreement.

The British view has been that this claim is far too sweeping. Their representatives on the Commission have argued that they must ensure that no previous non-German owner of property in Austria, whether Austrian or Foreign, should be deprived of this property because it was taken over by the Germans during the Anschluss period by forced transfer or any of the other tricks used by the Nazis in the forced Germanisation of Austrian economy.

Above all, the British delegation has been influenced by the need to secure the execution of the guarantee given in Moscow on November 1, 1943, that the Allies "wished to see re-established a free and independent Austria" and condemned the "annexation imposed upon Austria by Germany."

It is considered by the British that this guarantee would not be fulfilled if any foreign power were allowed to assume the very role, which Germany usurped, of controlling Austrian economy. Yet this is what would happen if another foreign power took over all those assets which Germany claimed and forcibly controlled throughout the period of 1938 to 1945.

In most cases the American and French delegates agreed with the British point of view.

MORE COMPLICATED

The question of oil is even more complicated than that of property. There also the question arises of Allied and neutral ownership taken over forcibly by the Germans or for totally inadequate compensation. It is further complicated by contracts secured by the Germans during the 'Anschluss' period in order to secure a stranglehold on the Austrian oil industry.

Both British and American delegations are keen not to ruin the chances of agreement being finally reached, and discussions may, therefore, drag on.

But, according to a British spokesman, the situation is deteriorating and the chances of any agreement are very slender, unless the Soviet are prepared at the last minute to change their policy radically.

MEASURES TO MAKE TRAVEL SAFE

E.I.R. Seeks Govt. Aid In West U. P.

BAREILLY, Sept. 13 (A.P.I.): The East Indian Railway authorities, it is understood, have sought the assistance of the civil authorities in the western districts of the United Provinces in order to enable them to maintain their service with a greater degree of security to the travelling public and to make it easier for the railway protection police escorts who had now been assigned on all passenger and mail trains, to carry out their duties effectively.

The Divisional Superintendent, Moradabad Division, in a communication to the District Magistrates stated that there were a number of authentic cases reported recently of passengers of different communities assaulting members of other communities with dangerous weapons while travelling on railway trains.

The Divisional Superintendent has suggested promulgation of an order under Section 144 Cr.P.C., in all areas through which East Indian Railway passes, similar to an order passed by the District Magistrate, Dehradun, which lays down that passengers shall not travel in any compartment from which they may be excluded by any police officer including a police constable at any time at the commencement or in the course of journey.

The promulgation of this order will enable the police in consultation with the station masters and railway officials to exclude Sikhs carrying weapons from all compartments except those which will be selected for them. From these selected compartments Muslims will be excluded.

Troops in transit in small parties who are carrying arms will, as far as possible, be placed in selected compartments.

ANOTHER PUNJAB IN KARWAR DISTICT

Reading the above headline in the press we were shocked and gravely perturbed.

But we heaved a deep sigh of grateful relief on discovering that it related to a rehabilitation offer from Karwar for Punjab refugees.

A clause in the Rent Control Bill to come up before the Bombay Assembly provides that a landlord may recover possession of his premises if the Rent Controller certifies:

"that the premises are reasonably and bona fide required by the landlord for occupation by himself or by his wife or by her husband, as the case may be, or by a son or daughter over eighteen years of age or by his father or mother or by his widowed daughter-in-law or any unmarried or widowed sister or in the case of a joint Hindu family for occupation by any member of such family or for the occupation of any person for whose benefit the premises are held."

We eagerly and anxiously searched our family tree to see if there was any landlord to whom we could claim to be related in one or other of the numerous permitted ways.

And we shivered.

Reuters has supplied "a pre-view of the lines along which Colonial Powers will be constantly under fire in the United Nations from eastern and Soviet quarters" in the (U.N.) Colonial Information Committee.

The details are most shocking. These snipers are simply trying to sabotage and destroy all the good work that is being done by the Colonial Powers for democracy and freedom.

* * *

What, for instance, could be worse than the fact that "critical comment" came from China, Egypt, India and Russia on, among other things, living conditions in the colonies?

But we are glad to say that the Colonial Powers, while exercising restraint, dealt with the snipers decisively. They fired back that that was no business of the Committee, which, we hope effectively silenced the snipers and the committee. For, can there be any question that "living conditions" and the like of colonial peoples are no business of the Committee, which exists only to make Colonies safe for the Colonial Powers? NO.

M. Georges Bidault, the French Foreign Minister, is understood to have declared that he would oppose any move which would mean France giving up her right of Veto in the United Nations Security Council.

We quite agree. The Veto is the only manifestation, proof and guarantee of France's first class status.

Establishment Of Gauhati University

Premier Bardoloi's Assurance Of Promoting Muslim Culture

SHILLONG, Sept. 13. (A.P.I.): The Assam Legislative Assembly to-day unanimously passed the Gauhati University Bill, which proposes to establish a teaching, residential and affiliating University at Gauhati. Under the Provisions of the Bill the Government shall contribute annually to the University a sum of not less than Rs. 5,00,000 to meet the recurring expenses of the University.

The Premier, Mr. Gopinath Bardoloi, who moved the passing of the Bill, assured the Minorities that the University would safeguard their interests. Muslim Culture would receive due consideration. He discouraged the tendency to bring in the question of communal representation and said that he considered it to be sinful to divide the proposed University into numerous communal compartments.

The Deputy Leader of the Muslim League, Mr. Sayidur Rahman, gave assurance of the Party's wholehearted co-operation with the Government in the University Scheme.

SAFE TRANSIT

It was agreed that immediate steps should be taken by both Governments, to ensure the safe transit of evacuees from East Punjab to West Punjab and from West Punjab to East Punjab.

Major General Thimayya was invited to participate in the Conference at this stage. Later he and Major General Cariappa left for Amritsar to implement this decision. It is expected that the evacuation of Muslim refugees from Amritsar will start from Monday.

NOT SUBJECT TO SEARCH

The following decision was reached between the Premiers of India and Pakistan today:

Irrespective of any control or previous administrative order to the contrary, no convoy or evacuees and no temporary camps of evacuees about to move from West to East Punjab and from East to West Punjab will be subject to any kind of search either by the Police or Military and both Governments reiterate their previous decisions that the evacuees will be permitted to take away at their discretion and within the limit of available transport movable property including licensed weapons and domestic animal, carts and motor vehicles which are not licensed for public use.

The West Punjab Government enjoins upon all their employees strictly to carry out these orders even though written orders may not reach them.

Offers To Bombay Govt. For Relief Of Refugees

POONA, Sept. 14. (A.P.I.): Two more fresh offers of assistance to Bombay Government in tackling the refugee problem have been received by Mr. B. G. Kher, Premier of Bombay.

Mr. Chandrabhan Rupchand from Shrirampur in Ahmednagar district has offered to find shelter for 25 refugee families, consisting of 125 members. Besides, he says, 500 other families could be engaged in his farm and village and earn their livelihood.

The second offer comes from Mr. B. M. Shah from Gowvad in Thana district, who was expressed his willingness to accommodate temporarily 300 refugees.

Mr. Shah has suggested to Government that a colony of refugees might be located there, and the vast grass lands on the coastal area be brought under cultivation, or Government might start or give facilities for starting factories for finding employment to refugees and Adivasis.

Sind Premier Warns Press

Pre-Censorship Ordinance To Be Issued Shortly

KARACHI, Sept. 14 (API).—The situation in Sind was absolutely peaceful except for some incidents in Nawabshah District where about 35 persons were killed and 25 were injured, said the Premier of Sind, Mr. M. A. Khuhra, addressing a press conference on the conclusion of his goodwill tour of some of the districts of the province.

The Premier said that there had been no incidents in Nawabshah after his visit to the District on September 7. The incidents in Nawabshah were not the result of any organised attempt at law-breaking. The Premier said that about 3,700 Punjabi Sikhs had left Nawabshah District. They were given adequate escort and had left Sind in complete safety.

Referring to some incidents in Karachi, the Premier stated that total casualties did not exceed 20.

'ONLY PEACEFUL PROVINCE'

The Premier added: "The truth is that Sind continues rightly to claim to be the only peaceful province in this vast sub-continent, and Sind Muslims as the majority community here continue to behave in an exemplary manner, sticking to their traditions of goodwill and cordiality towards the minority community.

Asked how Government proposed to tackle the invasion of houses in Karachi by unauthorised tenants, Mr. Khuhro stated that he had discussed the subject with a deputation whom he asked to submit details of individual cases and he promised relief in genuine instances. The Pemier also proposed to set up a special committee to deal with the trouble. It was also his intention to post a special Deputy Superintendent of Police for the purpose.

The Premier warned the press not to publish "grossly exaggerated accounts of some incidents" and said that a pre-censorship ordinance would be issued shortly.

The Premier concluded: "I would still appeal both to the press and the public to extend their wholehearted co-operation and goodwill to us in our task and to abstain scrupulously from doing anything by word or deed which may, directly or indirectly, add to the difficulty of our task."

Govt. Vigilant In Delhi

Bhabha Announces Vigorous Steps By Authorities Against Stray Incidents

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14 (API).—Vigorous steps are being taken by the military and civil authorities to free the capital from stray disorderly incidents occurring in certain areas. This was announced by Mr. C. H. Bhabha, Chairman at the meeting of the Delhi Emergency Committee in the Town Hall today.

Mr. Bhabha said that the military and the police were taking strict action against looters. He appealed to the public to co-operate with the authorities on such occasions.

The unfortunate death of Mr. K. S. Misra of the Ministry of Transport on duty at Mehrauli last night was referred to at the meeting. The Committee passed a resolution of condolence and Mr. R. K. Nehru was deputed to convey its deep sympathy and sorrow at the incident to Mrs. Misra personally.

ANOTHER REFUGEE CAMP

Mr. Bhabha announced that another refugee camp at Humayun's Tomb was being organised. This and Purana Quilla Camp would look after all the Muslim refugees in the capital. Mr. Bhabha said that it was impossible for Government to give direct assistance to the innumerable congregations of refugees varying from 10 to 1,000 in number seeking shelter in private houses, mosques, temples, etc. Government's efforts, he said, would henceforth be concentrated on the Purana Quilla and Humayun's Tomb camps so far as Muslims were concerned.

Three loud speakers have already been installed at the Purana Quilla Camp and arrangements are in hand for installing more in this and other camps.

The provision for floodlights is also being considered. Sanitation work is proceeding briskly.

The S.P.C.A. has been entrusted with the task of removing wounded animals. Disposals of deserted animals will also be taken up immediately.

CABINET'S CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

The Emergency Committee of the Cabinet at its sitting this morning passed a resolution of condolence at the tragic death of Mr. K. S. Misra, I.C.S., Deputy Secretary, Transport Department, who was one of the officers detailed on duty at Mehrauli to handle the refugees, and who was shot last night and subsequently died in the Willingdon Hospital. The Committee decided that his widow and two children will be adequately provided for by the Government as Mr. Misra died on duty.

REHABILITATION OF REFUGEES

East Punjab Govt. Outlines Plans

JULLUNDUR, Sept. 13, (API).—The rehabilitation plans of the East Punjab Government were outlined today at a Conference of officials of agriculture and co-operative departments by Mr. Trilok Singh, who is taking over as Director of Rehabilitation, East Punjab.

Capt. Ranjit Singh, Minister for Development was in the Chair.

Mr. Trilok Singh explaining the scheme said that it had been decided that as far as possible zamindars from canal colony should be rehabilitated in their ancestral districts. Agriculturists from Kasur Tehsil in Lahore District would be sent to that part of Kasur Tehsil which had been assigned to East Punjab. Zamindars of Sialkot and Shakargarh Tehsil would be sent to Gurdaspur District. Zamindars of Gujranwala District and Chunian Tehsil to Ferozepur Distict and if possible to East Punjab states and Karnal. Agriculturists from Rawalpindi Division would be sent to districts of Ludhiana and Ambala except Ropar Tehsil. Rai Sikhs would be given lands on the banks of the river in Ferozepur, Fazilka and Muktesar. Other Zamindars like inhabitants of Mianwali, Muzzafargarh and Dera Ghazi Khan, Montgomery and Multan could go anywhere they like provided land was available.

LAND ALLOTMENT

The Government, he added, had decided to make allotment of unoccupied land to groups rather than individuals. This allotment would be made temporarily only for the next two crops and the zamindars would be merely tenants.

Appealing to the officers assembled at the Conference to make the scheme a success, Sardar Swaran Singh, Minister for Home and Revenue, said: "We are passing through difficult times. Refugees have faced trouble and suffered privations. No one can make up the injuries which they have suffered. Your work is certainly difficult but the harder the work the greater our responsibility."

Sardar Ishrar Singh Majhail, Minister for Rehabilitation said: "We are determined to build up a new Punjab with all our power, the present may be the darkest period, but this is the time to serve our brothers, and it is our opportunity.

Captain Ranjit Singh, Minister for Development, said: "If you work in the spirit of service you are bound to succeed. Time is not for idle talk but field work. I am a soldier. My job is to fight. Let us all fight the difficulties lying ahead of us."

Two Stabbing Incidents In Ahmedabad

AHMEDABAD, Sept. 14. (A.P.I.): Two incidents of stabbing were reported to-night in the city. The victims were taken to hospital.

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14 (A.P.I.): Mr. K. S. Misra, Special Magistrate, First Class, was shot last night while on duty in the Mehrauli area. He was rushed to hospital where he died at 10 p.m.

A report received by Police headquarters at Town Hall, Delhi shows that Mr. Misra was shot at about 8-30 p.m., as he was entering a truck. Immediately a search was made to capture the assailant, but in vain.

Mr. Misra until recently was Deputy Secretary, Transport Department, Government of India, and was appointed Special Magistrate for the period of emergency in Delhi.

Mr. John Irvine, Sub-Agent, Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, Old Delhi Branch, who was seriously wounded on the head when he was accidentally hit by a bullet which the police fired on looters succumbed to his injuries in the hospital.

Mr. Irvine was going to his office in the afternoon and was accidently caught in the fire which the police had opened on looter of a shop near the bank.

ANY ONE ON ROOF LIABLE TO BE SHOT

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14 (A.P.I.): The District Magistrate Delhi today warned the public not to climb on to house tops. Any one seen on a roof is liable to be shot by the police or army patrol.

A Press Note issued by the Delhi Emergency Committee says: "Since this morning there has been desultory sniping from house tops of buildings in the area bounded by Faiz Bazar, Elgin Road, Juma Masjid, Victoria Hospital, Chowri Bazar, Ajmiri Gate Road and the City Wall.

"Residents of this area are warned that they should not under any circumstances climb on to house tops. Anyone seen on a roof is liable to be shot by the police or army patrol. This order comes into force immediately.

Reports received upto 7-30 p.m show that stray cases of looting and arson took place in various parts of Delhi, states a press note. In Daryaganj the Police and Military had to open fire on rioters.

The new "Dawn" press in Faiz Bazar was set on fire this forenoon and the fire brigade was called for. Brickbats were thrown from some buildings in the area and there was some firing from housetops.

A sentry post at the petrol stores in Kishanganj Railway Station was fired on. Troops immediately returned fire killing six and wounding two persons. Combing the area subsequently, the troops recovered arms.

A curfew breaker was shot dead in Sadar Bazar.

Air reconnaissance reported a large mob was proceeding towards Mehrauli suburb of Delhi. Part of the village was burning. A few shots were fired at the troops who returned the fire.

A mob attempted to loot a goods train at Asaoti Railway Station but was dispersed by troops who opened fire killing or wounding some twenty looters. In the Hodal area, looting and attacks were reported.

In the Fatehgarh area in East Punjab refugee convoys were attacked. Thirty of the refugees were killed and 80 wounded. Three hundred and fifty bullock carts were burnt or looted.

Last night was Old Delhi's second quiet night in succession. Only two minor cases of arson were reported to the Police headquarters at Town Hall. They occurred in Sadar Bazar and Paharganj areas. Both fires were quickly brought under control by the fire services with little damage to property.

CALCUTTA QUIET.

CALCUTTA, Sept. 14. (A.P.I.): "Calcutta was quiet and normal throughout Sunday, says a press note issued by the West Bengal Government to-night.

The Governor of West Bengal addressed a mass rally of the volunteers of the city's Peace Brigades held in the Calcutta Maidan in the afternoon. Earlier in the day, volunteers of Santi Senas made their usual tours in propaganda vans addressing small gatherings at several places, while batches of women volunteers made house-to-house visits carrying the message of peace and goodwill.

On Saturday evening, a cracker exploded near a house in the Manicktolla Police Station area. No one was injured but slight damage to the building was reported. The local residents who have been living in perfect peace and amity made a joint effort to trace the miscreant. A police picket was posted at that place.

India To Pay Full Quota

Decision At International Bank And Monetary Fund Conference

LONDON, Sept. 13 (Reuter): Delegates to the second annual meeting of the International Bank and International Monetary Fund, dissatisfied with what they describe as "the unspectacular progress of the Conference so far", tonight cancelled all out of town invitations and decided instead to hold a series of "internal discussions" over the weekend.

Although a lot of groundwork has been covered since the Conference was formally opened on Thursday last by Dr. Hugh Dalton, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, only three "hard" decisions have yet been taken.

They are: Firstly, India will have to continue to pay its full quota to the International Bank despite the division of the country into two Dominions.

Secondly, a fourteenth Executive Director of the Bank—very probably an Australian—will have to be elected to vote on behalf of Australia, Syria, the Lebanon and, if it is admitted as a member nation, Finland.

Thirdly, although the two institutions have now split up into seven different sub-committees, there must be the closest liaison between them at all times.

Despite its international character —45 nations are represented—the Conference has inevitably developed into an "All-Europe show."

This was forcibly demonstrated on Friday when the sudden arrival in London of Mr. William Clayton, United States Economic Under-Secretary, overshadowed even the presentation of the annual reports by the Bank's President, Mr. John McCloy, and the Funds Managing Director, Mr. Camile Gutt.

Speculation was rife as to what effect the presence of Mr. Clayton who, the previous day, had adversely criticised the Marshall-aid-to-Europe-programme drawn up in Paris by 16 nations, would make on the Conference.

A consensus of opinion declared that he would almost certainly help to "speed things up."

But Mr. Clayton turned to attend only a private meeting of the Bank's Membership Committee. The rest of the time he spent conferring with the American Ambassador, Mr. Lewis Douglas, and unnamed British and American financial experts.

ARAB MADE C.A.O. IN TRIPOLITANIA

TRIPOLI, Sept. 14. (Reuter): The first Arab to act as Civil Affairs Officer (C.A.O.) in Tripolitania has taken up his post in the district of Sabratha where there is a population of some 7,000 Arabs and Jews and 1,000 Italian colonists.

Tripolitania is divided into fifteen districts, each administered by a Civil Affairs Officer, and since the British occupation all these officers have been British. Previously, their counterparts were all Italians.

The nomination of an Arabs to such a responsible post and to control of a mixed population is a new step in the process of educating Arabs for self-Government here.

This step has been widely welcomed by the Arabs and is not unpopular with the Italian farmers in the area. Nagamiddin Farhat, their new C.A.O., has no doubt a closer understanding of the daily problems of all these people drawing a living from the soil of his country than many a British officer less familiar with the land.

A man in his early thirties, he is one of the few Arabs to get a good Italian education under the Italian regime. He has shown marked ability in previous posts under the British Military Administration.

The preparation of Arabs for self-Government has been going on slowly under the British Administration. There has been a steady increase in junior appointments and a far more serious regard for the opinions of Arab Advisers.

The advancement of the Arabs is not authorised by the International Law under which Britain is temporarily occupying the country. This Law requires that the territory be run under Italian Laws and Constitutions. It is only in anticipation of the moral duty that will fall on any new Government or Trustee appointed by the United Nations that the British Military Administration is justified in helping the Arabs on.

Under the Italians, the Arabs, far from being advanced, were deliberately retarded. Their political and intellectual leaders were killed or exiled, their best lands taken. Arab schools were closed and opportunities for secondary Italian education were few and far between.

The biggest strides under the British Military Administration have been made in the field of education.

Further plans for broadening Arab administrative experience visualise the opening of Arab Courts and the establishment of representative local Governments in all the towns.

"CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT OF GANDHIJI'S LIFE"

Sir Mirza Ismail Visualises Eventual Political Reunion: Says Exchange Of Population Is Ruinous & Disastrous

BANGALORE, Sept. 14 (A.P.I): Sir Mirza Ismail, former Dewan of Mysore, in a statement today expressed the view that "the exchange of population is a most disastrous thing possible—ruinous and unjust to individuals and also politically and economically ruinous both to India and Pakistan."

He added: "Perhaps the only hope of reconciliation and beginning of a new unity, social and political, lies in such an appeal to the feelings as can be made by the greatest of men, Mahatma Gandhi. It may be that this will be the crowning achievement of Mahatma Gandhi's life.

TOWARDS POLITICAL REUNION

"It may be that through him and those leaders of all the communities, who are animated by his spirit, our people will get rid of this domination by sectional feelings and know in their hearts that claims of wider brotherhood and patriotism are stronger. Such a miracle will not be strange to India where instinct and emotion mean so much and are so responsive to the noblest appeals and it may lead not only to peace but eventually to political reunion."

Referring to the immediate problem Sir Mirza said: The first problem in the disturbed parts of India now is to restore and make more secure than before harmony between the different communities. The minorities must be enabled to stay where they are with confidence. In every place the existence of these minorities and their co-operation is essential to the prosperity of the state. Only the spirit of justice and friendliness in the part of the majority leaders can bring about contentment and co-operation."

Sir Mirza added that the kind of service that India needed was simply hard and patient work and the future depended mainly on sheer efficiency and conscientiousness of the millions of people in their own daily work.

MAHATMA CONSOLES MUSLIM REFUGEES

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14 (A.P.I.): Mahatma Gandhi today visited Muslim refugee centres on the Ridge and at Idgah.

On the Ridge about 45,000 Muslims have pitched improvised tents and many families are living in the open. The refugees who looked poor and famished stood in long lines on either side of the road and received Mahatma Gandhi. The road is out of bounds and the military pickets stopped Mahatma Gandhi's car for a minute. He was shown round the camp by Mr. Hafizur Rahman, General Secretary, Jamiat-ul-Ulema.

Mahatma Gandhi was shown an injured man. A refugee who was a rich merchant of Paharganj placed before him the grievances of the refugees and expressed his sorrow at the way revenge and retaliation were taken against them and not against those who had committed misdeeds in the Pakistan provinces. Mahatma Gandhi consoled the refugees and told them that he had come to Delhi to help them. Among the refugees there were some who shouted at Gandhiji but there were others who welcomed him.

At the gate Mahatma Gandhi was shown some women who were injured during the disturbances. Immediately on arrival there Mahatma Gandhi was surrounded by the refugees. They are poorer classes, mostly tongawallas and the like. They rushed towards him with folded hands and with tears in their eyes asked him for food, cloth and better sanitation. Mahatma Gandhi looked visibly moved to see the insanitary state of living and assured the refugees that he would do all he could for them.

CALL FOR DOCTORS FOR EAST PUNJAB

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14 (A.P.I.): A statement issued by the Ministry of Health today warns that "the continued prevalence of existing conditions constitutes a grave threat to the city as it may result in outbreaks of epidemic diseases at any time" and appeals for volunteers to remove the accumulated garbage.

"It is estimated that the total population of the Delhi urban area has doubled as a result of the large influx of refugees", says the statement. "The different refugee camps themselves probably hold about 40,000 to 50,000, the remaining portion having been distributed in residential houses all over the city. In most houses instead of one there are probably two or three families staying at present.

STATE OF HOSPITALS

"All the hospitals in Delhi are taking a larger load than they are normally intended to take. For instance the Irwin Hospital with its bed strength of 220 has now 460 patients.

DOCTORS REQUIRED

"Doctors are urgently required to work in refugee camps in the East Punjab. They will be given a salary of between Rs. 300 and Rs. 400 p.m. with camp accommodation. An advertisement is being issued in all the more important newspapers in the country asking for the services of qualified medical men and women. The services of demobilised military medical officers with experience of preventive health work, including sanitary and anti-malarial measures, will be particularly useful. There is also an urgent need of sanitary inspectors. Such of them as have had army experience will be welcome."

ALARMING RISE IN GANGES' LEVEL

MRS. PANDIT CONFIDENT OF PAKISTAN'S SUPPORT

Hopes Of 'Absolute Unanimity' On South-African Issue At U. N. General Assembly

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (Reuter)-- Mrs. Vijayalaxmi Pandit, Indian Ambassador to the Soviet Union and Leader of the first Indian Delegation to the United Nations General Assembly opening here on Tuesday, said today that there was no doubt that "absolute unanimity" would exist between the Indian and Pakistan delegates when the South African question came before the Assembly.

In an exclusive interview with Reuter, Mrs. Pandit, who arrived here on Friday, said: "On the Indian South-African issue (the treatment of Indians in South Africa), India acted according to the instructions of the General Assembly and did her best to get together with South Africa.

"We have been unable to do so. If one of the signatories to the Charter is going to break one of its fundamental principles, that is loosening the foundations of the United Nations itself.

"There is no doubt that absolute unanimity will exist between the Indian and Pakistan Delegations when the South African issue comes up before the General Assembly.

"There was absolute unanimity in India on this question when the matter was raised at the General Assembly last year, and the full support of Pakistan is expected in this year's debate".

Mrs. Pandit emphasized, however, that the Pakistan and Indian delegations would work as "separate entities" and would vote as they pleased.

RUSSIA'S SUPPORT

Mrs. Pandit said she did not expect Russia to give any "special support" to India in the Assembly's coming session.

"My impressions formed during association with various nations last year is that it is not so much individual nations that support each other but the question of supporting certain principles in which each believed.

"India has been vitally concerned with certain problems such as racial discrimination, troops in non-enemy countries, colonial policies and other vital issues and has sought to end them because she has felt that their continuation is a menace to the peace of the world and because these things and what they stand for are in direct contradiction to the principles of the United Nations' Charter.

It happened in the past that Russia voted on the same stand as India on these questions, not I believe with a view to supporting India, but because of her own belief in that point of view".

On the veto, Mrs. Pandit said: "I am not at this stage prepared to discuss any matters connected with the agenda of the General Assembly, but that is certainly a matter which I shall discuss with my delegation as soon as they all arrive in New York".

MEMBERSHIP OF SECURITY COUNCIL

Asked whether India would make an attempt to become a member of the Security Council, Mrs. Pandit replied: "I do not think so. I intend discussing this matter, too, with the full Indian Delegation, but India will probably not apply for membership of the Council.

During the week-end, Mrs. Pandit will hold conferences with members of her Delegation at her palatial suite in a skyscraper hotel overlooking Central Part of map the strategy India will employ during the Assembly Session.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (Reuter): Mr. M. A. H. Ispahani, First Pakistan Ambassador to the United States, arrived in Washington on his first official visit today.

He is returning to New York tomorrow to lead the Pakistan Delegation at the United Nations General Assembly, following the Assembly's expected adoption of the Security Council's recommendation that Pakistan be admitted to membership.

MOSCOW ACCUSES ARGENTINA

"Initiator In Crusade Against International Co-operation

LONDON, Sept. 13 (Reuter): The Moscow Radio Commentator, M. Linetsky, strongly attacked the Argentine proposal for a special conference of the United Nations in a commentary on the coming session of the United Nations General Assembly, broadcast from Moscow tonight. M. Linetsky said the Argentine was "playing the part of an initiator in the crusade against international co-operation".

Speaking of the session generally, he said, "the opponents of international co-operation are obviously intensifying their machinations directed against the most important base of the United Nations. The new pretenders to world domination reject in practice the principle of international co-operation to free their hands and obtain the possibility of interfering in the affairs of other nations, and thus to transform the United Nations into a second edition of the powerless and doomed League of Nations.

Abolition Of Zamindari In Madras

Govt.'s Bill For Relief Of Ryots; Compensation To Zamindars

MADRAS, Sept. 13 (API): The Madras Government's Bill for abolition of Zamindari System in the Province was published today.

The Bill seeks the repeal of the permanent settlement by acquisition of all Zamindari Estates governed by the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, including whole Inam villages, and converting them into Ryotwari, paying equitable compensation to the Zamindars.

The total compensation payable to each Zamindar shall range between Rupees 25,000 and Rupees Fifteen lakhs, the compensation payable in each case being determined by the Government.

The Bill also envisages the setting-up of a Tribunal in each district to examine the history of lands and decide which of the lands are to be taken over by the Government. The Tribunal will consist of a Gazetted Officer as Chairman and two non-officials, one representing the Zamindar and the other Zamindari ryots, as members.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

The statement of objects and reasons of the Bill says there is acute discontent among Zamindari ryots as the rent levied by the Zamindars are far in excess of the assessments charged by the Government on similar land. The Government are convinced that the Zamindari System in the Province has outlived its usefulness and should be abolished forthwith in conformity with the Election Manifesto of the Congress Working Committee.

He said that Government expected a net income of one crore of Rupees annually as a result of taking over the Zamindari Estates in the Province.

C. P. Not To Recognise Titles

NAGPUR, Sept. 14 (UPI): The Provincial Government have decided not to recognise any titles and to omit all references to them in Government records.

M. R. Masani Appointed Chief Public Relations Officer

NEW DELHI, Sept. 14 (API): Mr. K. C. Neogy, Minister of Refugees, has decided to set up an Information Bureau of the Ministry to coordinate all news relating to refugees. The Bureau will have many tasks to perform, the most urgent of which will be to collect information from refugees or their relations regarding evacuation from various points in Pakistan: information regarding refugee camps in detail in the East Punjab and in Delhi: information regarding evacuation of Muslim and non-Muslim refugees from one Dominion to the other: and to give publicity on refugee matter.

It has been decided that Mr. M. R. Masani, Member on the Constituent Assembly of India, who has had wide experience in publicity will take charge of the information work of the Ministry as Chief Public Relations Officer. One officer from the Government of India Bureau Information will assist him. It is being considered whether or not non-officials experienced in Public Relations work should be attached to this Bureau.

Two first-aid posts have been established at the Delhi Railway station and the Willingdon Air Port by the Red Cross and St. John's. Six members of the Brigade have been detailed for duty at each of the posts to work in shifts. Mr. H. R. Mayer has been placed in charge of the posts.

In the Main Bazar area, two students offered Satyagraha and all the students in procession shouted slogans.

The police arrived on the scene shortly and made a lathi charge.

The police left the five injured boys on the road and repaired. Some civilians removed them to hospital.

A deputation of local students have protested to the Police Authorities against the lathi charge made on the students.

Floating Of Karachi Stock Exchange

KARACHI, Sept. 13 (API): A new feature in the economic development of Pakistan is the proposed floating of Karachi Stock Exchange which is housed in Haroon Chambers. Some of the leading Muslim business houses are undertaking this project, and they have the co-operation of many influential Hindu and Parsi business houses.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 13, (Reuter). Cotton opened easy 9 to 18 points lower, and prices further declined during early dealings on accumulation of hedge offerings. Firming tendencies later developed on covering operations in near months, and extension of week-end price-fixing against spot sales to Co. The Commodity Credit Corporation and reports from Worth Street that five million yards of print cloths were sold in the past few days for the second quarter of 1948 delivery. The appearance of mild week-end profit-taking near the close, subsequently shaded the day's best levels, but market closed firm though slightly irregular at 10 higher to four lower. Sales were estimated at 90,000 bales.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO, Sept. 13, (Reuter): Following initial irregularity, prices surged forward under the leadership of wheat on renewed buying, and technical considerations in view of yesterday's sharp marking down of values. Forecast of warmer weather in the Midwest over the week-end and reports that Mexico had purchased 12,000 tons flour and 4,000,000 bushels of wheat served further to aid bullishness. The upswing attracted profit-taking and week-end evening-up operations with sentiment still disturbed by the current widespread public agitation against rising living costs. Commodity Credit Corporation West Coast wheat buying price is reduced two cents bushel, with the decline following and advance of 20 cents bushel made by the Agency during the past week.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (UPA).—Prices moved irregularly higher on the New York Cotton Exchange during the week ended today, deriving encouragement from the strength of outside commodities plus the lower government crop estimate and higher quotations in the textile market.

At Saturday's close, the list ruled 38 to 52 points—1.90 to 2.60 dollars per bale higher than in the previous week.

Hopes that the Marshall Plan to aid Europe would spur the rehabilitation of the textile industry overseas and bring increased demand for American raw cotton came in for bullish sentiment. The main event of the week, however, was the government's second crop estimate of the season. The indicated yield 11,849,000 bales came around 5,000 bales higher than the previous estimate, but was around 150,000 bales below trade expectations. Crop students contended that the crop probably had gone back since the official figure was compiled because of the prolonged drought in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas although the conditions elsewhere were considered normal.

SMALL HEDGE SELLING

The unexpectedly small amount of hedge selling despite the rapid expansion of picking and ginning operations supplied another buying incentive. Market technicians contended that the volume of hedge offerings in futures was not proportionately heavy. This lent colour to the talk that some southern producers were dissatisfied with the current price levels and were holding back marketings or planned to impound a large share of cotton under the Government loan.

Other reports said that the government shortly might seek an additional 250,000 bales for the same destination.

Saturday's closing prices included:

DECLINE IN U. S. EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (UPA).—The Census Bureau announced today that the United States exports declined from $1,228,200,000 in June to $1,139,200,000 in July.

At the same imports for consumption dropped from $472,700,000 to $444,800,000.

The Bureau said that reduced foreign trade in crude materials is the principal factor in the export decline pointing out that cotton dropped from $50,100,000 to $13,200,000.

Coal dropped from $61,600,000 to $44,500,000. Petroleum exports were up from $7,900,000 to $11,000,000 the highest since May, 1943. Wheat exports went up from $10,000,000 to $17,300,000; but Maize was down from $25,600,000 to $23,800,000. Manufactured foodstuffs also went down as well as semi-manufactured goods. Import trends followed similar patterns.

Cripps' Disclosures Have Little Effect On London Markets

LONDON, Sept. 13 (UPA).—The possibility of interim American aid, coupled with the end of the Yorkshire coal strike, was the chief influence in the stock markets during the past week. Sharp recoveries carried the industrial index 3.1 higher to 112.7, but the behaviour of government issues did not testify to any real improvement in confidence—the gilt-edged index finished .41 lower over the week at 112.62.

The extreme caution of operators was evidenced by the thin daily volumes. Except last Monday when they topped 9,000, dealings were daily below the 7,000 level. Brokers said it was hard to deal either way in any but moderate amounts of stock and it took little good or bad news to swing prices sharply one way or the other.

Sir Stafford Cripps' disclosures of the govenment's export plans came after Friday's close, but City quarters said, in general, that the Cripps statement contained little that was positively new except a detailed schedule of export targets which is likely to bring a boom and slump in many sections.

The Financial Times today said that the effect of the Cripps statement "may well be offset by good news from the coalfields and American willingness to grant early relief." The Times added, "With uncertainties abounding, no outstanding market activity is expected."

AUTUMN BUDGET CERTAIN

Market authorities said the Cripps plan made an Autumn budget certain. A conviction prevails in the city that steps must be taken to stem inflation through a higher purchase tax and a biger profits tax plus higher taxation on non-essentials, including tobacco, because Cripps' heavy diversion from the domestic to export markets must result in mopping up surplus purchasing power.

NEW YORK PEPPER

NEW YORK, Sept. 12, (UPA): Black pepper futures closed unchanged to 200 lower with the sale of one contract for March delivery.

The spot market remained firm and unchanged. Lampong black sold at 40 asked and white at 55 asked A sharp decline in other commodities took the edge off buying interest but sellers maintained a firm attitude pointing to the uncertainties of future supplies from the primary markets.

Closing prices were: March 30.80 asked, September 40 nom, October 39 to 41, December 34 to 38, January 34 nom, May-July 29 nom.

NEW YORK WEEKLY SILVER REVIEW

NEW YORK, Sept. 12, (UPA): The New York silver market ended a week of active business in which a good demand was hampered by a tendency to tightness in spot supplies.

This spot tightness resulted in an upward revision of price which was maintained as the market closed firmly.

Dealers reported some foreign inquiries during the week but had no record of any actual sales.

LONDON PEPPER

LONDON, Sept. 12, (UPA): White pepper was quoted at 2/6-1/2 and black at 1/10/3 per pound on the London pepper market today.

Dealers said there was no business due to high black pepper prices.

LONDON SILVER PRICES

LONDON, Sept. 12, (UPA): On the London market today, silver was quoted at 42-3/4 per ounce for spot and 42-3/8 for forward.

Brokers said there was little forward selling and some spot buying with small business done on a quietly steady market.

NEW DELHI, Sept. 13 (API): The Boy Scout contingent from India and Pakistan to the World Jamboree in France is due to sail for Bombay from the United Kingdom on September 14 and is expected to arrive in Bombay on or about October 5. EXPORT-IMPORT BANK WILL CONSIDER MORE AUSTRIAN CREDIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12, (UPA): A United States official said to-day that the Export-Import Bank has informed the Austrian Under Secretary of the Treasury, Assene Hartenau and the director of the Creditanstalt and Laenderbank, Kurt Grimm, that is is prepared to consider any further requests Austria might make to the Bank for Credit for specific projects.

He added that the signing of the credits agreement totalling dol. 13,005,000 by Herbert Gaston on behalf of the Bank and Hartenau and Grimm proved a very pleasing ceremony. Gaston congratulated the Austrians for the way in which they had drawn up the information leading to the granting of the credits and the fact that their negotiators proved so capable and worked so satisfactorily with the Bank's officials.

The source said that ten agreements were signed on the credits. Hartenau stressed that Austria appreciated the fact that these credits were the first of the type granted thus far putting Austria once more on the way to normal commercial basis in trade.

Hartenau and Grimm spend next week in New York to renew the post-war contracts with leading United States bankers there. They fly back to Vienna, September 20.

U. S. WHOLESALE PRICES CONTINUE TO ADVANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12, (UPA): The Labour Department reported today that the United States average wholesale prices advanced 0.6 per cent for the week ending September 6, for the eight consecutive recording week.

Nine hundred basic commodities are 27 per cent above a year ago and 54.9 per cent higher than the 1926 average. The prices are about 7 per cent lower than the all-time high reached in May, 1920, immediately preceding a sharp reverse in that year.

Over 800 commodities, other than farm products and foods, increased 0.4 per cent to 4.5 per cent higher than in early August, 1946.

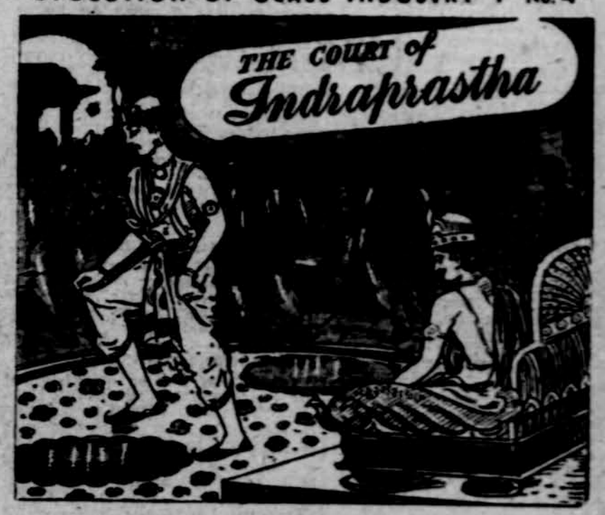
EVOLUTION OF GLASS INDUSTRY : No. 4



THE COURT OF INDRAPRASTHA built by the great architect Maya-Danava for Maharaja Yudhisthir was so deftly decorated with glass that it became a wonder of all wonders of that age. So illusory was its spectacle that Duryodhan mistook the glass-inlaid floor for a sparkling sheet of water and was about to raise and fold his clothes over the thigh to cross it. The courtiers could not but laugh and the proud prince felt grossly insulted. This unhappy incident was one of the indirect causes of the great war of Kurukshetra.

Modern science by its researches has surpassed even the fabulous skill of Maya Danava and The Sodepore Glass Works Ltd. to-day stand supreme as manufacturers of all varieties of glass and glasswares.
